

#DailyUI

A series of design challenges and a journey designing a mix of user interface elements.

UI Design

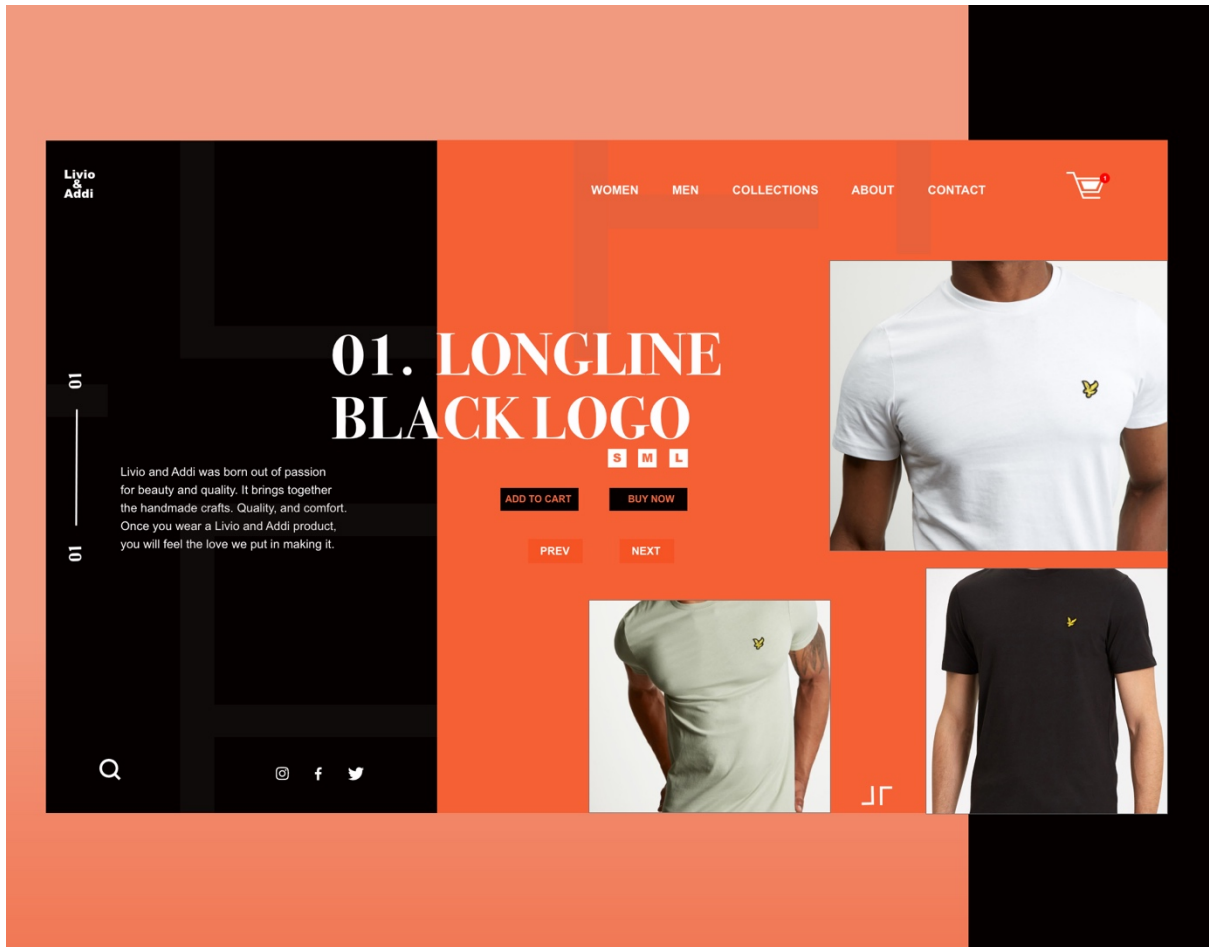

#001 TV App

The screen is for a smart TV, suggesting similar movies was important to me. If I had to add one more thing that would be ratings and an option to add a trailer and add to favourites.

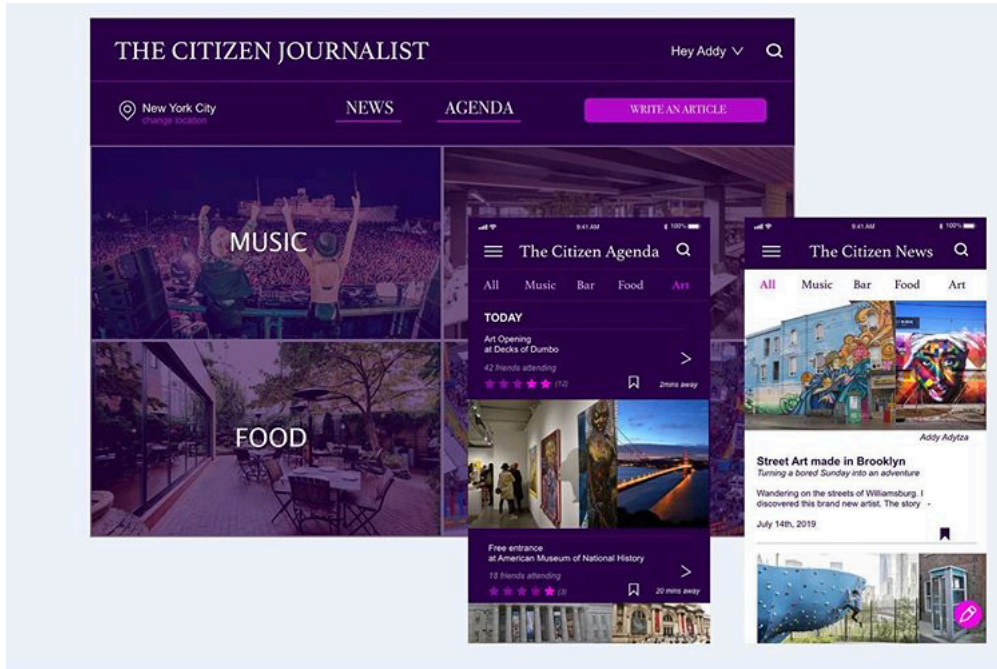

#002 Streetwear brand

My concept of a streetwear brand based in London, Livio & Addi

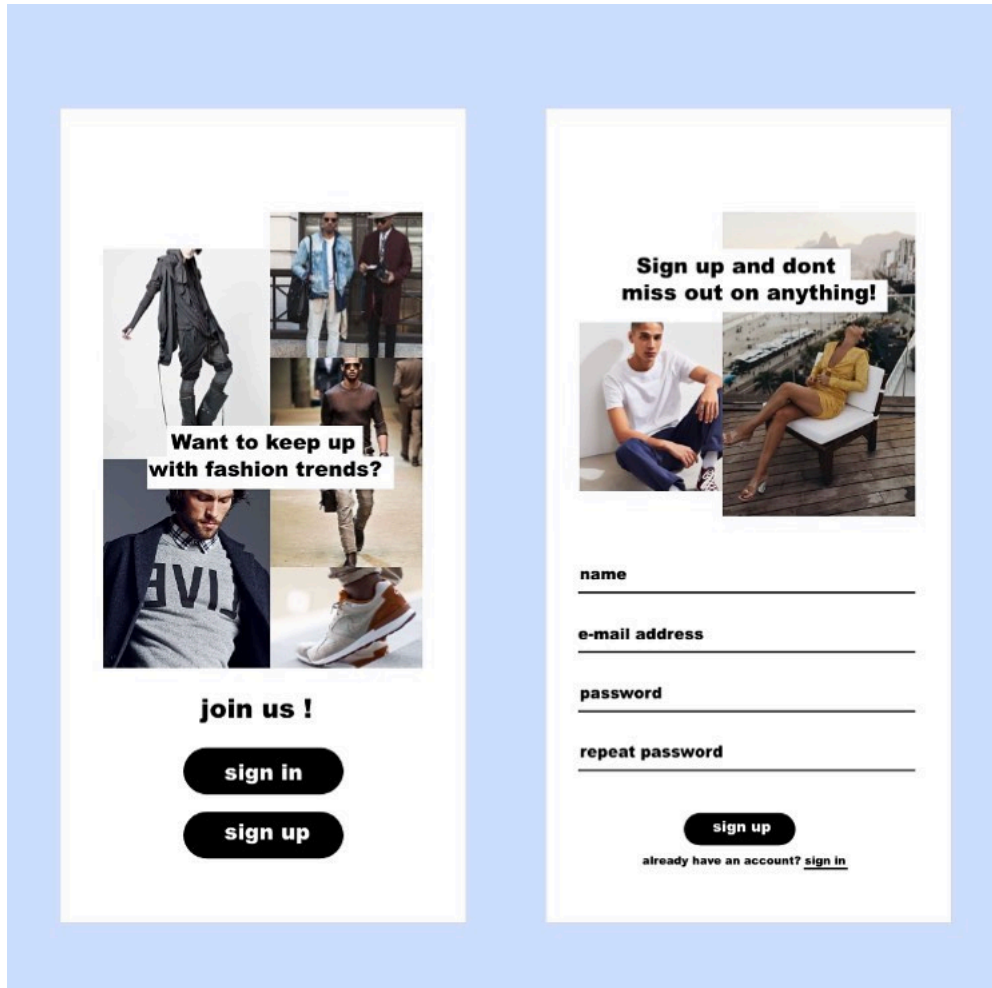

#003 Online Newspaper

This is one of my old project! A quick update on The Citizen Journalist showing the desktop page and the app format of the page.

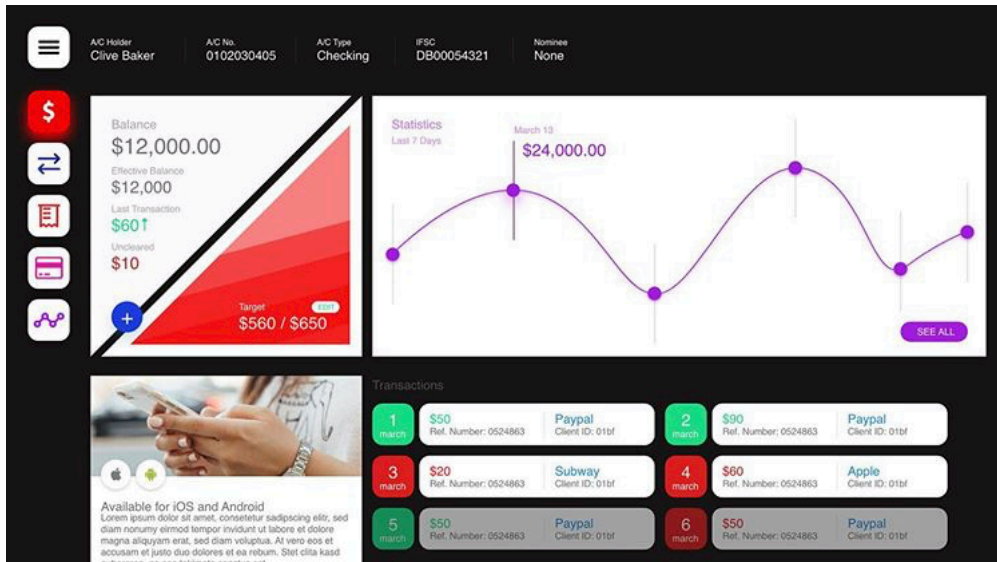

#004 Sign Up

My goal was to design a seamless user interface, with the obvious options needed. This is why I chose to request a name, email and password. However, if I had to add one more thing, that would be the option to recover the password in case the user is signing in instead of signing up.

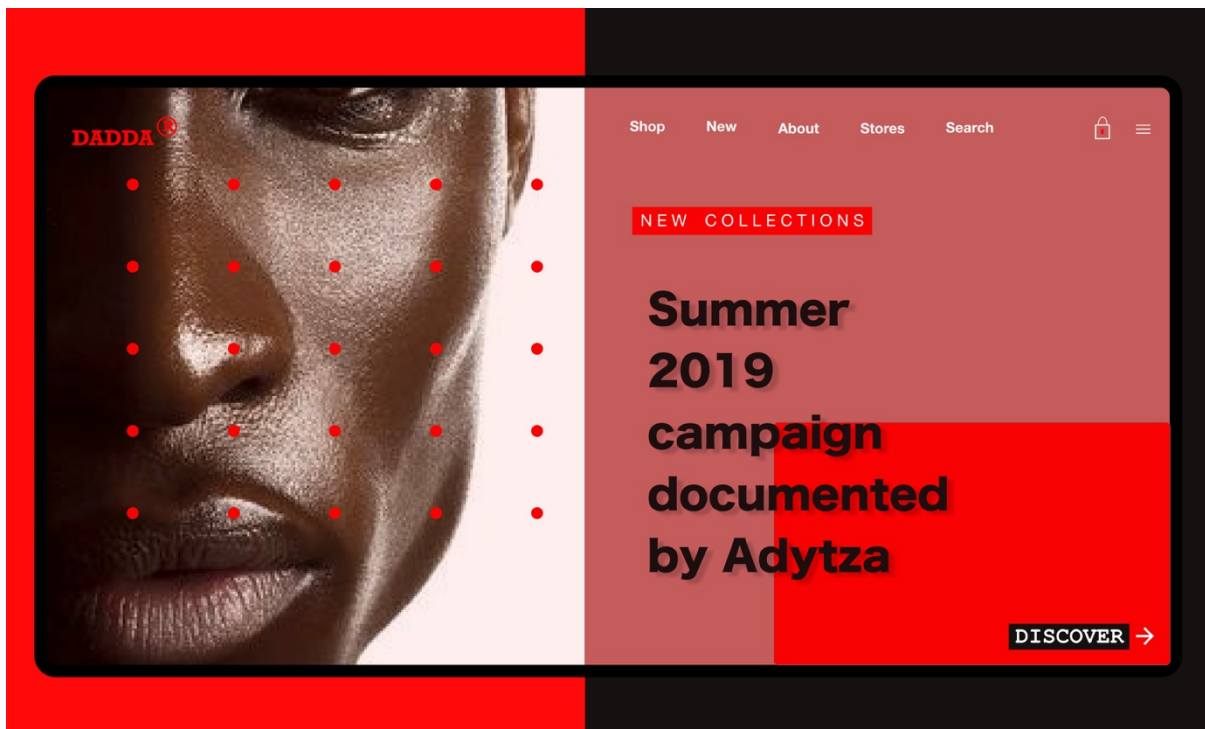

#005 Dashboard

A dashboard website design for banking service. Main focus is for the user to have one data on one screen.

#006 Ecommerce store

Fashion often rules the taste. Being on top of trends is a part of daily life for the end users.

#007 Analytics Chart

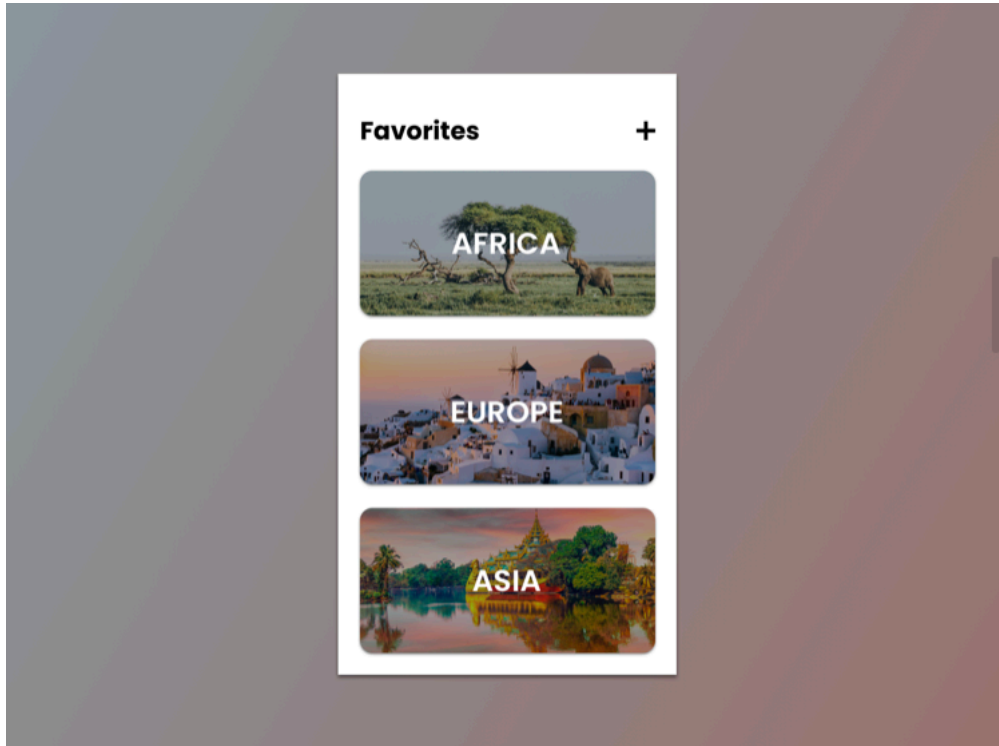

This chart is for a fitness program. The user has six different exercises with three sets each. The line graph is here to have an idea on the progress and it is easy to see if the user was more committed this week or the week before.

#008 Favourites

Travel pictures are the theme, stored and organised by continent. The user can add albums or walk through the existing ones.

#009 Info Card

Each card introduces a different artist with information about their last album released. The cards are organised by genre.

#010 Recipe App

A colourful plate of veggie dishes. I am featuring 3 healthy screens for: breakfast, lunch and treats! For me, it is very important for a recipe app to have high quality pictures of the food. I chose to include a catchy phrase below the name of the dish along with preparation and cooking time.

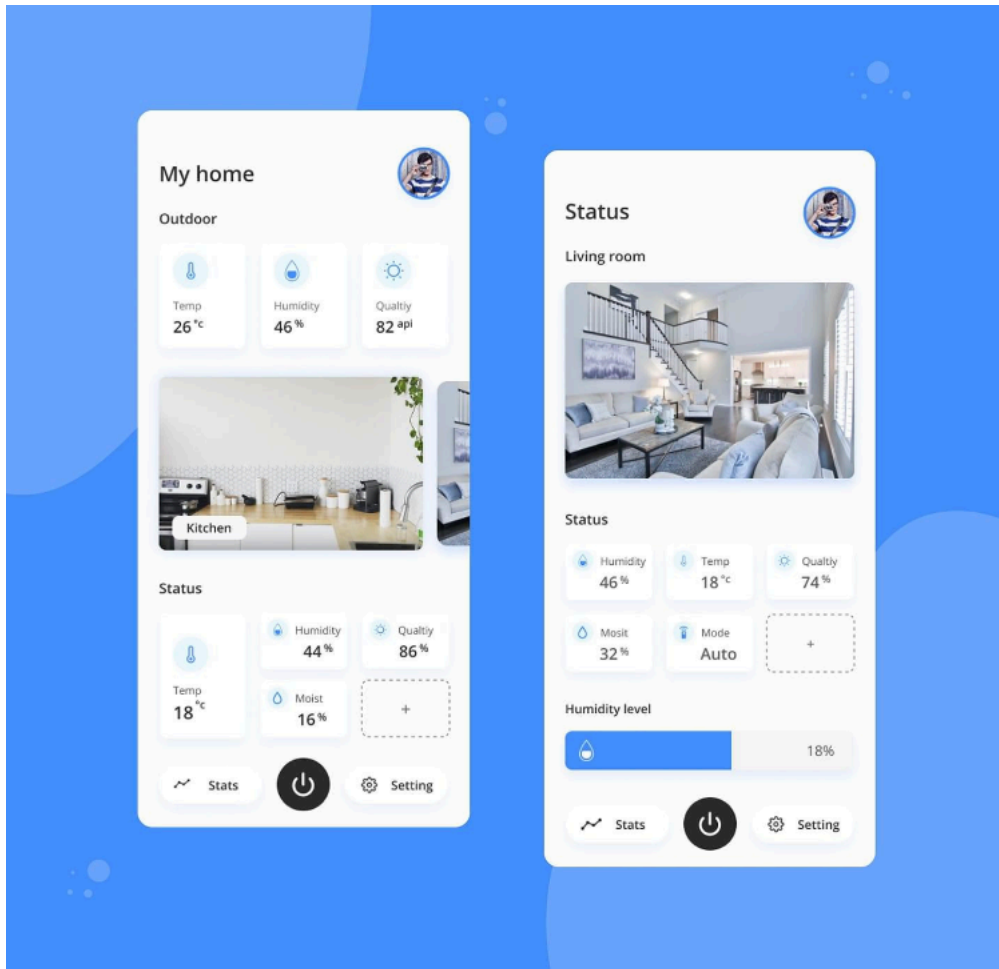

#011 Landing page

A modern landing page for a property company.

#012 Home Purifier App

This is an idea concept for a home purifier app design.

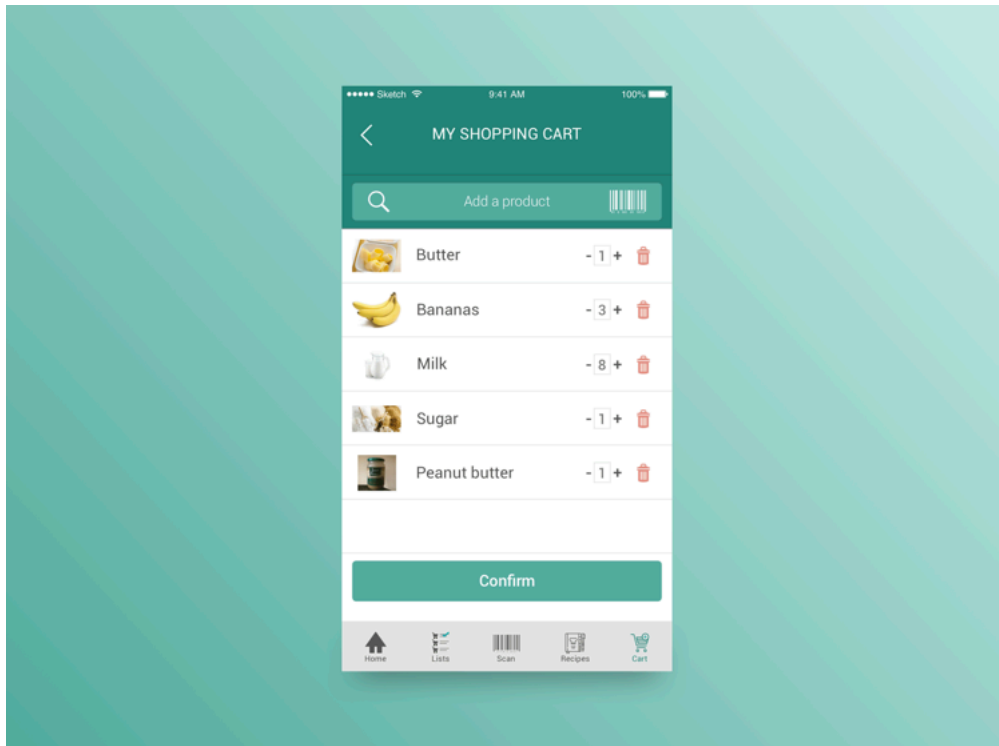

#13 Travel Guide App

This is a fictional concept of a travel guide app with the idea of a seamless user interface.

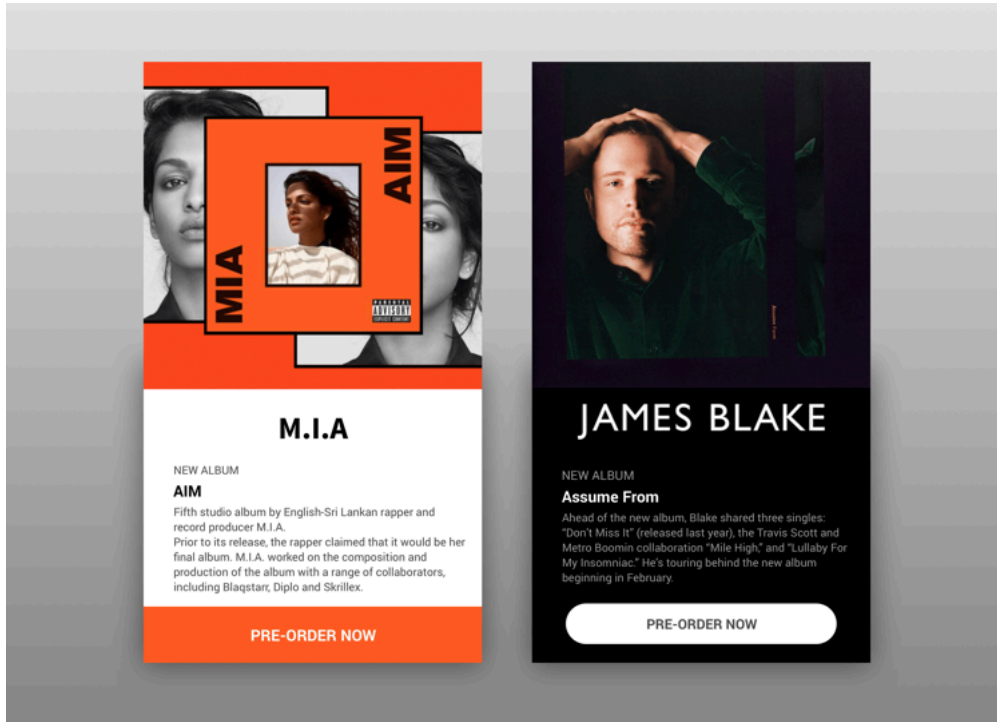

#014 Shopping cart

A redesign of a former project. Tomorrow's shopping Cart, a smart way to shop in store.

#015 Pre-Order

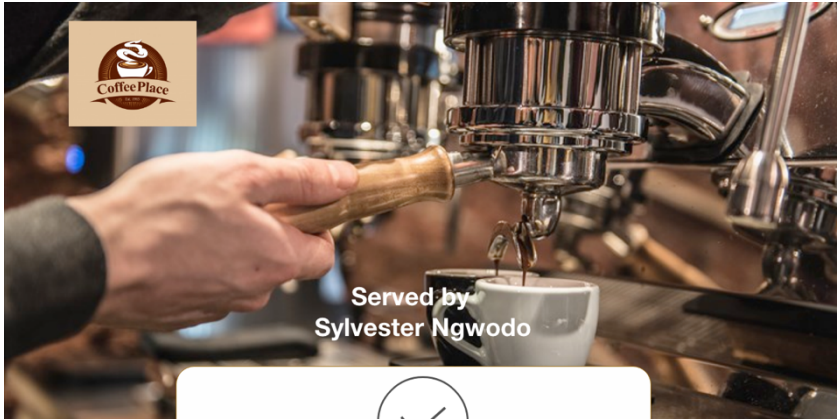

In this design, I wanted to play around with colours and layout to match these artists personalities & style.

#016 Thank You

A product I designed while working as a freelancer: A customer Facing Display. This concept was for Coffee Place and featured their products in the cart. The user can see that the payment has been received and that points were collected with the purchase.
